

OLIVE DICKASON

Globe and Mail Fashion Writer Wins Elizabeth Arden Award!

Olive Dickason, assistant women's editor and fashion writer of The Globe and Mail, recently received the annual Elizabeth Arden award for the year's best article on fashion. The winning article, headlined "Historical Background Gives Style Solidity", covered the New York fashion press week and traced the inspiration of the newest fashions to historical periods.

Manitoba born, Mrs. Dickason wrote for newspapers in Regina, Winnipeg and Montreal before joining the staff of The Globe and Mail.